Management of Various Types of Degradable and Non-degradable Waste

Solid Waste Management:

The college buildings are cleaned by cleaners appointed by the college authorities. They are allotted to different buildings in the campus. The solid waste generated in the college is disposed by using the waste bins placed around the campus and collected by the Municipal vehicles. The college has a compost pit where the degradable waste is being dumped. Some organic parts from the waste generated from the mess is collected in buckets and taken out of the campus for cattle feed.

Liquid Waste Management:

The liquid waste that comes out from the laboratories and offices goes through washbasins then to iron pipes of 3mm which are connected to outside drains and from these drains to an underground pit for disposal.

E-Waste Management:

The non-degradable waste also comprises of the e-waste generated from time to time. The institution has one room for keeping all the electrical goods and equipments, computers, office electronic equipments which are no longer usable, for disposal. Laboratory equipments which can no longer be repaired, exchanged and not usable by anyone are disposed as scrap from time to time.
